Stark County colleges and universities are committed to keeping students safe this fall. Stark's smaller school campuses enable faculty and staff to get know their students, while providing personal attention and care. Whether you prefer online classes, in-person classes, or a combination of both, join us to hear about how to receive an excellent, affordable higher ed experience close to home.

- ◆ Will the academic experience change at all this coming year?
- ◆ How will Covid-19 impact college costs?
- ◆ What happens if a student gets sick on campus?
- ◆ If I need extra help, office hours, or tutoring, can I get that remotely?
- ◆ How will your academic calendar be different because of the virus?
- ◆ Are students planning to return to campus this fall or stay remote?
- ◆ What social activities are going to be available to students?
- ◆ Will visitors be allowed on campus?

Viewers will be able to ask college presidents questions after the presentation portion of the session using the "chat" feature.
